

[Review notes: He is very glib with the word “Hell”... shame on him for that. But with that said, I apologize for not giving much of this first section. I skipped most of this first section, because there really isn’t much important content. Kirk has a full several minutes of useless superficial temporal examples of why Kirk is (and friends are) giving a “prophecy” of why America is going to crash and burn – because they said so, unless we go with their plan. Not because of what God is actually doing, but because they are propping up the wrong system because that’s how he and his friends make money and get the praise of the world.]

“... And to top it off, I have friends at church who tell me that the worse things get, the better it really is. Because it means that the end is near and that Jesus is returning. Don’t worry that the world is going to Hell in a handbasket, just get out of the handbasket. It’s part of the plan. That it’s meant to be. That the whole thing is going to burn. Really? Because I have kids in this world. I have friends who have children in this world and I want a great future for them. And are we just supposed to let it go?” [minute marker - 2:23]

[Review notes: Please do notice his perspective here is nothing spiritual – but comfortable on this planet in direct contradiction to Jesus’ words in Matthew 5 thru 7, and Mark 8:34-38]

“With everyone blaming everybody else [gives devil horns with both hands], I’m not hearing a clear voice that’s giving us a solution on how to get out of this mess. Wait a minute. It’s got to be simpler than this. Maybe, it’s as simple as we’ve forgotten what made this nation so successful and healthy and prosperous and secure in the first place.” [minute marker – 3:28]

“... So, if anyone knew what it was like to live in difficult times, where it looked like the end was near, it was them (meaning pilgrims, etc). But what was their attitude? It wasn’t put your head down and get ready for the end of the world. It was, we’re getting off of the defense and getting on the offense and we see victory in the future.” [minute marker – 4:44.]

[Review notes: That right there was this is the false teaching of “the Family” and their “Kingdom Dominionism”.]

“They had a 500-year plan, and they went and built a new nation.” [minute marker – 5:01]

[Review notes: That right there is revisionist history. You can’t find honest sources saying that the pilgrims came over with a plan. They were debtor-slaves, but that was better than being in debtors prisons, so they came with their families. And they weren’t just persecuted because they didn’t have money. No, they didn’t have money because they actually believed the Bible and the Pope/Vatican and the King of England/Anglican “church” were persecuting them and trying to stamp out their honest faith and following of Jesus Christ. If anyone came over to the US with a “500 year plan”, it wasn’t the pilgrims – it was the Rothschild banker agents. And that’s evidence Mr. Barton rejects outright, though the history is very easy to pull together.]

[Review notes: This next section is Kirk in England and revisiting some of the info of the Puritans and Separatists. He goes so light on the info that it might confuse people as to the honest history, but it has enough truth to it that I’ll leave it be. Just not that you can take his “facts” and the info from his “experts” at 50% to 75% accurate. That slow-moving, minimal info clip goes from the 5 minute mark to the 21 minute mark. Sue Allen is smart... but the way Kirk plays this out... it uses up time with little content. Next scene, Kirk’s good friend: Marshal Foster. For the next half hour or so, Mr. Foster is hyping the story of the Mayflower and the Mayflower Compact and the start of the new colony, with a few other “experts” being brought in to help emphasize the points Kirk wants to make.]

[Review notes: At about the 50 minute mark, Mr. Foster takes us to a monument that was put up in his words “130 years ago” or so paid for by the Congress (I assume state congress), and supposedly is the “blueprint” that the pilgrims laid for us to remember why our nation is so great. Mr. Foster spends a lot of time talking about this statue while “Christianizing” every piece and aspect – and yet using ecumenical words to cover for things that don’t add up with his re-write. The names of the statues are “Faith”, “Morality”, “Law”, “Education”, and “Liberty”. Here at minute marker 55:15, Mr. Foster just called the Bible the “Book of Knowledge”. If you know what you’re looking for from freemason lingo and from “Kingdom Dominionism” garbage, you see that he’s working to blur history and gloss over masonry, pretending it’s part of “Christianity”. This statue has the words carved into it that it’s a national monument to the forefathers, and according to Mr. Foster, it's called "the Liberty Matrix" monument. The clip wraps up at the 1hour mark. The next section is meant to put a spotlight on David Barton as the "expert" on the founding fathers documents.]

[minute marker started - 1:01:02]

"But, those are the forefathers. What about the founding fathers? 150 years later – the George Washingtons, the Thomas Jeffersons, Benjamin Franklin, Madison, John Adams. The people that framed the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence. The real beginnings of the United States of America. In that 150 years, did they lose that deep faith of our forefathers? Were they really a bunch of atheists, agnostics, and deists – like modern historians tell us? I needed to find that out. So I went to the leading expert in the country for original source documents during the founding era. David Barton has the largest private collection of Bibles and documents and textbooks from early America. I wanted to see John Hancock's John Hancock. For myself.

Kirk: "What are these?"

David: "This is a family Bible done in 1798. This Bible was funded by about a dozen signers of the Constitution and signers of the Declaration, as well as by President John Adams and Vice President Thomas Jefferson. They're the guys who put out the financial backing to do this Bible."

Kirk: "Funded by signers of the Declaration."

David: "And Constitution. Yeah."

Kirk: "And Constitution."

David: "Yeah, a guy named Bedford – signer of the Constitution. John Dix – signer of the Constitution. Uh, you had so many of the signers who part of this. Alexander Hamilton helped fund this Bible."

Kirk: "Cause they wanted families to gather around the Bible."

David: "They wanted the Word to go out to every family."

Kirk: "Cause they believed that would make for a better country."

David: "Makes for a better country. Makes for a better faith. And again this is a product of our atheist, agnostic, and deist founding fathers – or at least we're told that's who they are today. When you see this stuff [taps on two-volume Bible], you go: wait a minute. These guys... Why would any atheist, agnostic, or deist promote the Word of God, fund the Word of God, and want it distributed to every family and everyone in America? Why would they fund a Bible [picks up another smaller Bible] that you can take and give out to your neighbors, to evangelize them. It doesn't make sense if they are atheist, agnostics and deists. Now on the other hand, if these guys happened to be Christians, this makes a lot of sense."

[The scene looks at the matrix monument and the word "evangelist".]

David: "This is one of the rarest books in the world. This little book right here – really delicate. It was done in 1782. This is the first Bible ever printed in English in America. They printed 10,000 of them. There's twenty-two left in private hands. This is one of them. So, it's one of the rarest books in the world. What's cool. Is this Bible of the Revolution was printed by the Congress of the United States. So, Congress printed the first English language Bible."

[The scene looks at the matrix monument and a carved book that Mr. Foster said was the "Bible" but has no markings that could be seen.]

David: "They said in Congress that this Bible is quote: 'a neat edition of the Holy Scriptures for the use of our schools.' End-quote."

[The scene looks at the matrix monument and the statue and word "education".]

David: "So, the founding fathers and Congress printed the first Bible in English? And they did it for the use of schools? I didn't think they wanted the Bible in schools. That's what we hear. That's what we've been told. The Bible was put in schools back in 1647 – first public school law. We kept in schools until 1963, when the court said – yeah, we've done it 320 years, let's do something different. And now we're told the founding fathers never wanted the Bible in schools. [taps the little rare Bible again] That one piece of history right there, proves exactly the opposite. Real simple."

-- Kirk (acts shocked and talks to us): "So hold on. The United States Congress was commissioning and printing Bibles to be given to all the people, because they knew that's what would produce the character necessary to make America blossom. And flourish and thrive. Benjamin Franklin. Thomas Jefferson. Understood that without Christianity, you have no basis for a free and just nation. And that's why they promoted the principles of Christianity, even if they were not themselves, personal genuine followers of Jesus Christ."

Kirk [to David]: "These arguments that we're hearing that all of these – you know, Christianity was not a significant part of their lives. If anything, they were deists. – They're just simply... Their arguments are based on ignorance. Or.."

David: "Or deliberate."

Kirk: "Or deliberate..."

David: "misrepresenting..."

Kirk: "... and denying it."

David: "Denying. Yeah anybody who knows history, knows that it's a deliberate attempt. Now I believe that there is a lot of people who repeat this ignorantly. Because they simply teach what they were taught in school."

Kirk: "right."

David: "They got this in school. But there was a generation that absolutely got this wrong. No question about it. And they did it deliberately."

[scene skips out of that conversation, to David showing Kirk another book]

David: "See this is a book done by two professors. Cramnick and Moore. [book titled: "The Godless Constitution"]. These two were professors. It's a book called the "Godless Constitution". These guys – they assert that the founding fathers were all atheists, agnostics and deists, and that's why they [founding fathers] gave us a godless document. Because they themselves were "godless". So they [two authors] got through and lay out. Now, I find this used as a textbook in universities all over the country. Now, they go through and lay out their whole case. And I mean you see the letters we just pulled and documents that we've got everywhere around here. And you go – what's the documentation for this thing that none of the founders believed in God? That they had a secular government – a godless constitution? And so you look at the footnotes."

Kirk: "Bibliography."

David: "Yeah, you go to the Bibliography in the back. And you get back here to the end. And it talks about – a note on sources. Now we're looking at footnote sources here. This is going to be cool. And when you get here, look what these two professors say. 'We have dispensed with the usual scholarly apparatus of footnotes...' We're not documenting a single thing. Everybody trust us – we're PhDs. We're telling you all of these guys are atheists, agnostics... Do you think there's any kid that's going to an university in America today who could write a thesis paper and not footnote it? And have a professor not tear their head off? And yet we have two professors saying: oh no, it's a godless constitution – they're all godless, but we don't have to footnote anything. We've dispensed with that usual stuff, because everybody knows they're godless. This is pure revisionism. This is the kind of stuff that's deliberate. You've got to work really hard and the reason they couldn't document it is that you're not going to find original documents like that. You find maybe two or three documents out of a hundred thousand maybe. That's the best they can come up with. And that's just the – again, exception not the rule. And that's the way we teach history today. We say well the founders were all slave owners because Jefferson owns slaves. We yeah, that's one of the 56 signers of deck. How about the 70% of the signers of the deck that were abolitionists and formed the first abolition societies? Well the founders we all atheists, agnostics and deists cause Jefferson and Franklin. Well how about the other 54? How about the fact that of the 56 signers of the Declaration, 29 of those guys held seminary degrees. More than half of the signers went to seminary? We never talk about that. And that's what these guys do. They may find a piece or two – they don't even footnote it. But they might find a piece or two to prove their case. Every piece they find, we can find 50, 70, 100, 200 exactly the opposite. But this is what kids get in college now."

Kirk: "Wow. I mean. [sighs]"

Kirk [to us]: "These documents that I held in my hands prove to me that our founding fathers did not lose that deep faith in God. They didn't ditch the strategy of the pilgrims. In fact, they were following it. Congress was printing Bibles. And they were paying to send them into homes and churches and schools." [section ended at minute marker – 1:09:11]

[Review notes: Mr. Barton is a clever liar – and he is a revisionist. He doesn't source and prove a lot of things he says and he skips over lots of history. But he gets all angry when people contradict his "scholarship". I have read some of his materials – even his book on the supposed "lack of" freemasonry among the founding fathers and how it caused them to use double-meanings etc. Mr. Barton just mixes truth with lies all throughout that book. Look for a *picture of George Washington with a mason apron on – you'll find it. Look for his letter expounding the "great" qualities of masonry – you'll find it. Look for Thomas Jefferson's razor-cut Bible where he removed most of the gospels to just get Jesus to say what he wanted. Look into Benjamin Franklin's strong agnosticism, even satanic dabbling. Look into the several key individuals who partnered with the Rothschilds (English banking dynasty) to control the dynasty while pretending to be "representing" the rights of the colonies. Look at the masonic involvement of Patrick Henry – who indeed did hold the title of "pastor", but was a part of things he should not have done. Look into the freemasonry involvement in "causing" the Revolutionary war. The details of masonry run deep – and you can find it, despite Mr. Barton pretending it almost didn't exist. No, with the founding documents, there was a verbal war between two factions: deists/masons and honest followers of Christ (to some extent). They came to agreement, but the masons snuck more into the founding documents than is often reviewed – that's why the arguments about the people not accepting them continued for another 1 to 2 years. ~ Anyway, enough said. Mr. Barton is indeed a revisionist – he rewrites history all the time as well as covering up very important details that help with an honest history – not forced with either of the "two sides". Do not take him as an expert, because the only thing his an "expert" on is lying. He has some facts and he has some lies. Double-check him every time.]*

Proof that David Barton was lying about the "no footnotes" comment. You can verify this yourself:

Review notes: The last 10 minutes rushes through 5 to 10 speakers, in slow pace. I think that captured the most of what I found most alarming. A full movie report/analysis would be another 10 pages or so. One short note of mention: Mr. Herb Titus pretended that the institutions controlled the "education" and therefore the country. No one mentions the pastors teaching lies and revisionist history. At the end of this film, Mr. Kirk Cameron wants you to walk away, trusting his "experts" and joining the new "Kingdom Dominionism" 500 year plan... please reject every lie and lying direction Mr. Cameron is suggesting. Get in the Bible – take it 100% and double-check all people, especially those pretending to be "spiritual" leaders.

Conclusion:

I find it very interesting that Kirk pretends to go looking for the "plan" that encouraged the Puritans and Separatists who were under heavy persecution from Rome and the Anglican "church" and the monarch of England – to encourage people to follow him as he supposedly leads a "charge" to "re-establish" a society where we will be "safe" from persecution? Kirk Cameron and his friends don't know the Bible. That's what makes them wrong every single time. Kirk and his friends also love money and apparently will write whatever false movie they can find to make with whatever pleasant, but anti-Biblical message they can get to the people to get them to stop standing against satan's schemes... very sad.

But, even though Kirk and friends won't read these passage and take them to heart, all of us should:

"¹⁰ Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. ¹¹ Blessed are you when they revile and persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely for My sake. ¹² Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you." (Matthew 5:10-12)

"¹⁸ If the world hates you, you know that it hated Me before it hated you. ¹⁹ If you were of the world, the world would love its own. Yet because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. ²⁰ Remember the word that I said to you, 'A servant is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted

Me, they will also persecute you. If they kept My word, they will keep yours also. ²¹ But all these things they will do to you for My name's sake, because they do not know Him who sent Me." (John 15:18-21)

⁹ For I think that God has displayed us, the apostles, last, as men condemned to death; for we have been made a spectacle to the world, both to angels and to men. ¹⁰ We are fools for Christ's sake, but you are wise in Christ! We are weak, but you are strong! You are distinguished, but we are dishonored! ¹¹ To the present hour we both hunger and thirst, and we are poorly clothed, and beaten, and homeless. ¹² And we labor, working with our own hands. Being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we endure; ¹³ being defamed, we entreat. We have been made as the filth of the world, the offscouring of all things until now. ¹⁴ I do not write these things to shame you, but as my beloved children I warn you." (1 Corinthians 4:9-14)

¹² Yes, and all who desire to live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution. ¹³ But evil men and impostors will grow worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived." (2 Timothy 3:12-13)

¹ Therefore, since Christ suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves also with the same mind, for he who has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, ² that he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh for the lusts of men, but for the will of God. ³ For we have spent enough of our past lifetime in doing the will of the Gentiles--when we walked in lewdness, lusts, drunkenness, revelries, drinking parties, and abominable idolatries. ⁴ In regard to these, they think it strange that you do not run with them in the same flood of dissipation, speaking evil of you. ⁵ They will give an account to Him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. ⁶ For this reason the gospel was preached also to those who are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit. ⁷ But the end of all things is at hand; therefore be serious and watchful in your prayers."

(1 Peter 4:1-7)

God's Word commands us not to build an earthly kingdom, but to live for Him and seek God's Heavenly Kingdom.

¹⁹ Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal; ²⁰ but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. ²¹ For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. ²² The lamp of the body is the eye. If therefore your eye is good, your whole body will be full of light. ²³ But if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in you is darkness, how great is that darkness! ²⁴ No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon." (Matthew 6:19-24)

¹³ These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off were assured of them, embraced them and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. ¹⁴ For those who say such things declare plainly that they seek a homeland. ¹⁵ And truly if they had called to mind that country from which they had come out, they would have had opportunity to return. ¹⁶ But now they desire a better, that is, a heavenly country. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for He has prepared a city for them." (Hebrews 11:13-16)

¹ Where do wars and fights come from among you? Do they not come from your desires for pleasure that war in your members? ² You lust and do not have. You murder and covet and cannot obtain. You fight and war. Yet you do not have because you do not ask. ³ You ask and do not receive, because you ask amiss, that you may spend it on your pleasures. ⁴ Spiritual adulterers and adulteresses! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Whoever therefore wants to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. ⁵ Or do you think that the Scripture says in vain, "The Spirit who dwells in us yearns jealously"? ⁶ But He gives more grace. Therefore He says: "God resists the proud, But gives grace to the humble." ⁷ Therefore submit to God. Resist the devil and he will flee from you. ⁸ Draw near to God and He will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners; and purify your hearts, you double-minded." (James 4:1-8)

¹⁵ Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. ¹⁶ For all that is in the world--the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life--is not of the Father but is of the world. ¹⁷ And the world is passing away, and the lust of it; but he who does the will of God abides forever." (1 John 2:15-17)

³⁴ When He had called the people to Himself, with His disciples also, He said to them, 'Whoever desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me. ³⁵ For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for My sake and the gospel's will save it. ³⁶ For what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world, and loses his own soul? ³⁷ Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul? ³⁸ For whoever is ashamed of Me and My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him the Son of Man also will be ashamed when He comes in the glory of His Father with the holy angels.'" (Mark 8:34-38)

¹ I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that you present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your reasonable service. ² And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God." (Romans 12:1-2)

²⁰ I have been crucified with Christ; it is no longer I who live, but Christ lives in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me." (Galatians 2:20)

¹⁵ And what accord has Christ with Belial? Or what part has a believer with an unbeliever? ¹⁶ And what agreement has the temple of God with idols? For you are the temple of the living God. As God has said: "I will dwell in them And walk among them. I will be their God, And they shall be My people." ¹⁷ Therefore "Come out from among them And be separate, says the Lord. Do not touch what is unclean, And I will receive you." ¹⁸ "I will be a Father to you, And you shall be My sons and daughters, Says the LORD Almighty." ¹ Therefore, having these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God."

(2 Corinthians 6:15-18, 7:1)

⁹ The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, as some count slackness, but is longsuffering toward us, not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance. ¹⁰ But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in which the heavens will pass away with a great noise, and the elements will melt with fervent heat; both the earth and the works that are in it will be burned up. ¹¹ Therefore, since all these things will be dissolved, what manner of persons ought you to be in holy conduct and godliness, ¹² looking for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be dissolved, being on fire, and the elements will melt with fervent heat? ¹³ Nevertheless we, according to His promise, look for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells." (2 Peter 3:9-13)

⁵ But also for this very reason, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue, to virtue knowledge, ⁶ to knowledge self-control, to self-control perseverance, to perseverance godliness, ⁷ to godliness brotherly kindness, and to brotherly kindness love. ⁸ For if these things are yours and abound, you will be neither barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁹ For he who lacks these things is shortsighted, even to blindness, and has forgotten that he was cleansed from his old sins. ¹⁰ Therefore, brethren, be even more diligent to make your call and election sure, for if you do these things you will never stumble; ¹¹ for so an entrance will be supplied to you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." (2 Peter 1:5-11)

In conclusion:

I admonish all who will listen: please do not let someone wander you back to the comfort of sins or an easy life, with no fear of persecution for following Christ. That is a very devious and dangerous teaching of satan, and his men. Do your best to not be a part of building anyone's earthly kingdom or happiness, but do your best to be a part of encouraging, challenging, inspiring (even rebuking/exhorting where needed) everyone you can to turn from the empty and sin-cursed trinkets of earth and earth's sin-pleasures, and to seek a Heavenly Kingdom – studying God's Word deeply and reminding others to do the same. That is what we are to be busy about till our final breath. Amen?

“⁸ But even if we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel to you than what we have preached to you, let him be accursed. ⁹ As we have said before, so now I say again, if anyone preaches any other gospel to you than what you have received, let him be accursed. ¹⁰ For do I now persuade men, or God? Or do I seek to please men? For if I still pleased men, I would not be a bondservant of Christ.” (Galatians 1:8-10)
