

Bill Gates COVID and 5G – Short Report

Eugenicists blame Coronavirus on an “act of God” as if they were now “gods”

<https://www.incpu.org/Gates-COVID-5G-Short.htm>

<https://www.incpu.org/Gates-COVID-5G-Short.pdf>

The following is a sequence of articles showing multiple strong agendas attached to the Coronavirus outbreak and subsequent actions to “contain” it. We are convinced that Bill Gates and his eugenicist (murderous) friends have been looking for a cohesive strategy to push forward all of these agendas and that the Coronavirus was their only way forward. It was a big risk on their part, and we trust that those who are close enough to complete a case against Bill Gates and others will find a way to verify the necessary information and get it immediately out into the public stream of conversations. That is the only way to catch criminals like this. They thrive on secrets and so any secret attempt to catch them fails, because they are tactfully ahead of any secret strategy to prosecute them. It can only be a public action that will require all of the information to become public knowledge in order to attempt to prosecute.

People really need to stop falling for the two-sided games as if this attack on the world were just a misguided assortment of attempts to solve a problem. These problems ARE CREATED by leadership from both sides of every equation in order to maintain “order” over the people. This is not an unplanned competition of liberals versus conservatives or communists versus democracy or United States, Italy, and Britain versus China, Russia, and Iran or globalists versus trade unions or any of the other double games that are just propaganda to oppress the people of the world. These global events are always planned and there is a reason all of these agendas are being forced at once. The one world government cannot succeed by passively letting the people choose what we want to focus on. They can only succeed in conquering the whole world by forcing all kinds of things that we don’t want followed by a slight backtracking and an admission that it was too drastic of a response, but still leaving most of the newly invasive infrastructure in place to be used against us again in the near future. Do some investigation and you will discover that something is seriously wrong, even if there’s not enough information to prove guilt yet. May God help people work together and locate the necessary information to stop their threats against the world.

Investigation of the facts suggests that a virus was released by U.S. government infectious diseases military ops against China’s people on behalf of the Chinese government and that this attack is simultaneous to the release of 5G wireless networks to disguise the damaging effects of the new low-frequency high intensity technology. Six of the top seven countries pushing toward having the largest 5G networks by 2035 match six of the top ten countries hardest hit by the coronavirus. At the same time, America is pushing to lead the world in enforcing carbon dividends taxes on the people to reduce CO2 emissions by half by 2035. And United Nations is working on its 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development from Rio DeJaneiro meetings in 1992, 2002 (this one in South Africa instead), 2012, and 2015. Obviously there are more reasons for this coronavirus attack besides 5G and climate change, such as major political unrest against governments in China and Italy; aggressive plans for world war between the United States and Iran (which does not have the support of the people in either country); and corporate globalists and international unions losing support of the people in all countries (Belt and Road Initiative, Trans-Pacific Partnership, Brexit, North American Union, etc). Additionally there are conflicts of interest between Russia and the U.S. over oil and Middle East politics (toward Middle East Union); competition over worldwide manufacturing/imports that is hurting the people in the countries involved; global “health” systems and U.N. climate change adjustments mixed heavily with depopulation agendas; and the highest level of displaced persons in recent history; etc. The U.N.’s 17 Sustainable Development Goals include wiping out poverty and hunger completely, moving toward cleaner health, sanitation and energy and better education, pushing for new world order “community” and businesses and stronger “peace” and “justice” initiatives combined with aggressive partnerships between the leaders of these bully systems.

Essentially, this attack worldwide is because the one-world government agendas are rapidly losing cooperation of the common people from all “developed” nations. People resist their abusive new technologies that are being put in place for an iron-tight grip on human interaction and for precision war against individuals who are outspokenly hostile to one-world power and alien space-war hoaxes etc. Among us common people, we seem to blame everyone else who “may be supporting” one side or another of all of the various causes. Eventually, we are going to have to stop doing that and take initiative and courage to speak openly in daily life about the real terrorists worldwide even as they oppress us worse and worse. And God will force open an escape door for those who do not want to obey sin. God is raising up Israel as a power in the world again – the only true third party in the world that is powerful in truthfulness and historic honorability enough to counter the plans of the devil. And this will be absolutely necessary as the anti-christ Roman Catholic-led system transitions rapidly from national programs against one another (through these multiples of two-party games) to international level of programs in the form of one-world government.

Here is a list of the agendas we need to be focused on regarding the current attack:

Mandatory vaccines and other “health care” solutions. Nazi-style eugenics testing/poisoning and depopulation for “health” and “unity”. Anti-“global-warming” climate change initiatives to force global carbon tax for being allowed to exist as a human being and thus require quicker depopulation – using statistics showing how China and U.S. have used so much less energy and created less carbon “pollution” during this coronavirus crisis because of such anti-social inactivity. Global identification (especially digital) requirements per person with health, financial, and personal records combined. 5G and related harmful electronic poisoning with massive networks of towers used for controlling data and information and conversation online. Surveillance tracking through more cameras and increase in sending up satellites for global space “research” – to also be used for future military attacks against the common people by global networks. Propaganda to disguise existing military weaponry already in use and to cover these crimes both past and future as if they were mistakes or artificial intelligence errors to remove blame from the designers behind the technologies. Social distancing propaganda to stop people from talking to one another and learning about these threats to the world. Communism versus fascism arguments to find synthesis toward one-world government instead of complex global two-state solutions currently held in balance between Russia and United States. Global ownership copyrights on food, health, water, air, and other natural “resources” such as humans. Global “govern”-mental organizations reaching into people’s personal lives with continually restricting legislation and peer pressure uses of persuasion to comply. Blaming “acts of God” for whatever crimes cannot be explained as accidents or computer errors, such as by chem-trail poisoning and weather warfare to chemical/biological warfare – trying to be “gods” over the lower “castes” of the population. Shutting down or weakening small and private businesses in favor of global corporations and their subsidiaries and affiliates. Digital currency to replace paper currency completely because of the former’s 100% traceability and ability to silence political opponents. Martial law/ detention camps/ quarantine/ curfews and other “rights” of the government to oppress human life during any future crisis they create. Terrorism versus world government reversed paradigm in attempt to make people see common citizens who disagree with global “unity” as the danger to society – reverse victimhood tactics of elite abusers. Covering deaths and mass-murder committed by these networks of real terrorists in global government who also control the international criminal court and national judicial powers. False “messiah” hero narratives in order to force people together in “unity” with them against the undefined common enemy, which ends up creating more false “messiahs”. Intent to create more restrictions and/or fears on global travel. Nationalized and secretly globalized health care programs which are more for death-“care” programs rather than natural healing. Deeper control of public free speech through social media and through surveillance of communications and even using technology for giving government orders against perceived “threats”. Using government to force unwanted religious agendas on the population such as penitent contemplation during Lent, and then intending to ease the restrictions during Easter weekend.

Bill Gates is member of the Nazi eugenicists’ Good Club and of the Global Alliance for Vaccines and Immunization and a major funder and partner of Planned Parenthood, Interfaith Hospitality Networks, genetic modification studies that introduce worse diseases and threats rather than heal (especially in Africa). Gates also controls micro-loan funding to poor nations to control their young people with digital technology toward forced one world government programs. Gates also stands to gain the most from the spread of 5G wireless networks to spread the use of his Microsoft power-base worldwide – for which this virus seems to be a diversion tactic so he doesn’t get caught for the damaging effects of highly multiplying bases for 5G. Gates is a partner with the Rockefeller Foundation which tightly controls “Christian” religion in America. Gates is a partner with World Bank which leads the International Monetary (Murder) Fund in taking over the world banking and economic networks of Freemasons. Gates is a partner with The Ford Foundation – whose founder Henry Ford wrote the Nazi archetype of anti-Israel propaganda.

Gates is also a partner with USAID whose PREDICT () program was shut down to avoid implication of involvement in this loose virus, since they have done a lot of research on this virus. There are other similar programs that were shut down beforehand such as U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (USAMRIID) at Fort Detrick, MD which was partnering in Wuhan where the virus is said to have started in China. Donald Trump also removed three NSC staff positions directly pertaining to pandemics in 2018 – Homeland Security advisor to NSC on pandemics and Trump intentionally did not reappoint anyone to the positions of NSC senior director for global health security and biodefense as well as the NSC director for medical and biodefense preparedness). All of this was done to instead invite a corporate “agency” FEMA to take over with United Nations guidelines instead of the Executive Branch of government taking responsibility for its own decisions. Gates is also a partner with World Health Organization – a United Nations partner – to control people’s “health” plans. Gates is also a partner with Pirbright Institute in the UK who owns the patent on the coronavirus (excluding this particular strain, of course – we include, below, Pirbright’s rebuttal against people’s questions of their involvement in the attack).

If people can grasp these threats for what they are, it is unmistakable how these all fit together in the current attack on human life. Here are a small collection of articles that comment on these things – most with only headline and/or short captions from the article. We provide the links so you can look for yourself. Feel free to research and provide articles as it will help accumulate a clearer picture of how everything fits together the right way. We are not condoning or agreeing with the premise of many of these articles – we are merely showing the conversations and details we could find that will hopefully assist in bringing prosecution against the global terrorists. We enlarge the font on some particular quotes that are helpful to notice.

Innovating to zero!

https://www.ted.com/talks/bill_gates_innovating_to_zero/discussion

Bill Gates presented the following equation: CO₂ (total population emitted CO₂ per year) = P (people) x S (services per person) x E (average energy per service) x C (average CO₂ emitted per unit of energy)

"Let's look at each one of these and see how we can get this down to zero," he said. "Probably one of these numbers is going to have to get pretty near to zero. That's a fact from high school algebra."

Vaccines & Population Control

In a speech titled "Innovating to Zero" Bill Gates said, "First we got population. The world today has 6.8 billion people. That's headed up to about 9 billion. Now, if we do a really great job on new vaccines, health care, reproductive health services, we can lower that by perhaps 10 or 15 %." What? Lower what? People? Which specific people?

Wow! One of the most powerful men in the world, Mr. Gates, clearly stating that he expects vaccines to be used to reduce population growth? I thought vaccines were supposed to be used to prevent disease. Bill Gates, in January of 2010, at the Davos World Economic Forum, announced his foundation would give 10 billion dollars over the next ten years, to develop and deliver new vaccines to children in the developing world.

The primary focus of Bill Gates foundation is vaccinations, especially in Africa and other underdeveloped countries. Bill and his wife, Melinda, are founding members of the GAVI Alliance (this alliance is for vaccinations and immunizations).

They partner with the World Health Organization and the vaccine industry. The goal of GAVI is to vaccinate every newborn child in the developing world.

Are you scared yet? If not, there's something wrong with you. Or are you on the protected species list?

Researchers from The Pirbright Institute have been awarded US $5.5 million by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to establish a Livestock Antibody Hub aimed at improving animal and human health globally. The ambitious programme of work will see extensive collaboration between multiple UK research organisations in order to utilise research outcomes in livestock disease and immunology to support human health as part of the 'One Health' agenda.

FIELD OF THE INVENTION

[0001]

The present invention relates to an attenuated coronavirus comprising a variant replicase gene, which causes the virus to have reduced pathogenicity. The present invention also relates to the use of such a coronavirus in a vaccine to prevent and/or treat a disease.

BACKGROUND TO THE INVENTION

[0002]

Avian infectious bronchitis virus (IBV), the aetiological agent of infectious bronchitis (IB), is a highly infectious and contagious pathogen of domestic fowl that replicates primarily in the respiratory tract but also in epithelial cells of the gut, kidney and oviduct. IBV is a member of the Order Nidovirales, Family Coronaviridae, Subfamily Coronavirinae and Genus Gammacoronavirus; genetically very similar coronaviruses cause disease in turkeys, guinea fowl and pheasants.

ID2020 Alliance: Global Mandatory Vaccinations + Biometric ID Integration

An alliance of multinational companies, global consulting firms, including Gavi or Vaccine Alliance, Rockefeller Foundation, Microsoft, etc. has been formed to provide a “holistic and market-based approach” to help governments of the world provide a “good national ID” to “prove who you are” because it is “a fundamental and universal human right.”

They will do this in conjunction with government-funded mandatory vaccinations.

GAVI Vaccine Alliance

GAVI, officially Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance (previously the GAVI Alliance,^[4] and before that the Global Alliance for Vaccines and Immunization)^{[2][3]} is a public-private global health partnership committed to increasing access to immunisation in poor countries.^[4]

GAVI brings together developing country and donor governments, the World Health Organization, UNICEF,^[5] the World Bank, the vaccine industry in both industrialised and developing countries, research and technical agencies, civil society, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and other private philanthropists.

GAVI was created in 2000 as a successor to the Children's Vaccine Initiative, which had been launched in 1990.^[6]

Seth Berkley has been the CEO of GAVI since 2011.^[7]

The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation has donated $1.56 billion to the alliance's 2016-2020 strategic period, as of March 2019.^[8]

In August 2014, GAVI changed its name from “GAVI Alliance” and introduced a new logo.

The report also states:

The United States has created a normative population control worldview directed through a surreptitious patchwork of policies promulgated by organizations whose ideological formation and funding eugenicists have provided. At the top tier of population control policy are organizations created by pioneers and patrons of the eugenics movement: Planned Parenthood Federation of America (PPFA), International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF), Population Council, UNFPA (The United Nations Fund for Population Activities), and their patrons: the Ford Foundation, (Margaret Hempel), the Rockefeller Foundation, (Judith Rodin) and USAID. The newcomers to this elite group of eugenicist policymakers are Bill and Melinda Gates, welcomed with their foray into promoting the injectable contraceptive Depo Provera while concealing life-threatening harm.

As The New American has reported previously, Bill and Melinda Gates are members of a secretive, elite clique calling itself “The Good Club,” composed of billionaire eugenicists who champion population control. The members of this group include David Rockefeller, George Soros, Warren Buffett, Michael Bloomberg, Ted Turner, and Oprah Winfrey. The Good Club is a major backer of the Obama administration’s Global Health Initiative, which is working, among other things, to further empower the World Health Organization, the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), Planned Parenthood, and other dastardly Eugenic schemes around the world.

Latest military lab concerns involve plague bacteria, deadly viruses

Tom Vanden Brook, and Alison Young

USA TODAY

Updated Sept. 10, 2015

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon's most secure laboratories may have mislabeled, improperly stored and shipped samples of potentially infectious plague bacteria, which can cause several deadly forms of disease, USA TODAY has learned.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention flagged the practices after inspections last month at an Army lab in Maryland, one of the Pentagon's most secure labs. That helped prompt an emergency ban on research on all bioterror pathogens at nine laboratories run by the Pentagon, which was already reeling from revelations that another Army lab in Utah had mishandled anthrax samples for 10 years.

<https://www.usatoday.com/story/news/nation/2015/09/10/bioterrorism-military-labs-specimens-mistakes-plague-encephalitis/71888694/>

Published: January 31, 2020

It is also important to point out the fact that the U.S. military’s key laboratories involving the study of deadly pathogens, including coronaviruses, Ebola and others, was suddenly shut down last July after the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) identified major “biosafety lapses” at the facility.

The U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (USAMRIID) facility at Fort Detrick, Maryland — the U.S. military’s lead laboratory for “biological defense” research since the late 1960s — was forced to halt all research it was conducting with a series of deadly pathogens after the CDC found that it lacked “sufficient systems in place to decontaminate wastewater” from its highest-security labs and failure of staff to follow safety procedures, among other lapses. The facility contains both level 3 and level 4 biosafety labs. While it is unknown if experiments involving coronaviruses were ongoing at the time, USAMRIID has recently been involved in research borne out of the Pentagon’s recent concern about the use of bats as bioweapons.

The decision to shut down USAMRIID garnered surprisingly little media coverage, as did the CDC’s surprising decision to allow the troubled facility to “partially resume” research late last November even though the facility was and is still not at “full operational capability.” The USAMRIID’s problematic record of safety at such facilities is of particular concern in light of the recent coronavirus outbreak in China. As this report will soon reveal, this is because USAMRIID has a decades-old and close partnership with the University of Wuhan’s Institute of Medical Virology, which is located in the epicenter of the current outbreak.

A crucial federal program tracking dangerous diseases is shutting down

Predict, a pandemic preparedness program, thrived under Bush and Obama. Now it’s canceled.

By Kelsey Piper Oct 29, 2019, 8:00am EDT

Most of the deadliest diseases to affect humanity leap to human hosts from other animals. The 1918 flu pandemic likely came from birds. HIV likely jumped from a similar virus in chimpanzees and other monkeys. Recent Ebola outbreaks have come from bats, rats, and gorillas.

Ever since the 2005 H5N1 bird flu scare, the US Agency for International Development (USAID) has run a project to track and research these diseases, called Predict. At a cost of $207 million during its existence, the program has collected more than 100,000 samples and found nearly 1,000 novel viruses, including a new Ebola virus.

But on Friday, the New York Times reported that the US government is shutting down the program.

According to its former director Dennis Carroll, the program enjoyed enthusiastic support under Bush and Obama, but “things got complicated” in the last few years until the program “essentially collapsed.”

<https://www.vox.com/future-perfect/2019/10/29/20936921/usaids-predict-pandemic-preparedness>

The world's health systems are currently battling two deadly outbreaks. The novel coronavirus that started in Wuhan, China, in December has now infected 45,171 people in 26 countries, killing 1,115 people so far. But the Democratic Republic of Congo is also dealing with the second largest outbreak of Ebola ever, with 3,429 reported cases and 2,251 people killed.

Pirbright's livestock coronavirus research – your questions answered

Posted: 24 January, 2020

The Pirbright Institute is aware that misinformation regarding the Institute and its research is circulating on social media following an outbreak of a new (novel) coronavirus that infects humans in Wuhan, China. These are the facts regarding our coronavirus research and funding.

The Pirbright Institute carries out research on infectious bronchitis virus (IBV), a coronavirus that infects poultry, and porcine deltacoronavirus that infects pigs. Pirbright does not currently work with human coronaviruses. More information on our coronavirus livestock research can be found on our website.

The Institute holds Patent no. 10130701 which covers the development of an attenuated (weakened) form of the coronavirus that could potentially be used as a vaccine to prevent respiratory diseases in birds and other animals. Many vaccines are made in this way, from flu to polio. We have not yet developed an IBV vaccine, but research is ongoing.

The Institute is strategically funded by the Biotechnology and Biological Sciences Research Council, part of UK Research and Innovation (BBSRC UKRI) and also receives funding from many other organisations including the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. The patented work was not funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. More information on The Livestock Antibody Hub which is funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation is available on our website.

The coronavirus first identified in Wuhan, China, earlier this year is a new coronavirus, the seventh coronavirus identified that is able to infect humans. Six other coronaviruses are capable of infecting humans and these can cause diseases which range from mild to severe, and include the common cold, severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) and Middle East respiratory syndrome (MERS). The exact origin of the new virus is unknown but initial confirmation shared by China and the World Health Organization (WHO) indicates that this new virus is genetically similar to a SARS-like coronavirus found in bats. The source of the outbreak has yet to be confirmed and investigations are ongoing.

The Pirbright Institute collaborates with scientific institutes and universities around the world to prevent and control livestock diseases and those that can spread from livestock to people, known as zoonoses. Research carried out on viruses and their livestock hosts at Pirbright can inform the development of vaccines for animals and, in the case of zoonotic diseases, potentially prevent and control disease in humans.

Pirbright's research is focused on animal coronaviruses, primarily chickens. Dr Helena Maier answers some commonly asked questions on coronaviruses, the diseases they cause and the research we do to protect livestock.

2. Climate Change / Carbon-Taxing Agendas / Depopulation “benefits”.

The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, adopted by all United Nations Member States in 2015, provides a shared blueprint for peace and prosperity for people and the planet, now and into the future. At its heart are the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), which are an urgent call for action by all countries - developed and developing - in a global partnership. They recognize that ending poverty and other deprivations must go hand-in-hand with strategies that improve health and education, reduce inequality, and spur economic growth – all while tackling climate change and working to preserve our oceans and forests.

The fastest way to cut carbon emissions is a ‘fee’ and a dividend, top leaders say

A group of prominent politicians, economists and corporate executives is renewing its push in Congress for a plan that would tax carbon and refund all the money to Americans in payments of approximately $2,000 a year for a family of four.

As congressional Republicans work to come up with a response to climate change, and Democratic primary voters are flagging climate as a top issue, the Climate Leadership Council believes it has an opportunity to win supporters from both sides of the aisle by seeking deep emissions cuts, relying on markets and eschewing regulations.

Several climate-related proposals are being discussed in Congress. The Energy Innovation and Carbon Dividend Act, including a carbon tax that would start at $15 a ton and rise by $10 a year, has won the backing of 80 House members, only one of whom, co-sponsor Rep. Francis Rooney (Fla.), is a Republican. All revenue would be returned to taxpayers.

On Tuesday, Sen. Thomas R. Carper (Del.), the top Democrat on the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee, introduced the Clean Economy Act, which would aim to achieve a net-zero-emissions economy by 2050. It would leave the setting of interim targets to the Environmental Protection Agency.

Led by President Ronald Reagan’s treasury secretary James A. Baker and secretary of state George P. Shultz, the Climate Leadership Council proposal has plenty of high-powered backing. More than 3,500 U.S. economists, four former Federal Reserve chairs, 27 Nobel laureates in economics, and 15 of 16 living former chairs of the presidential Council of Economic Advisers. (Joseph Stiglitz, who was head of President Bill Clinton’s council, is the exception.)

More than a dozen senior executives from companies that support the tax-and-dividend plan recently joined the council and attended the dinner with the senators. Corporate supporters include the chief operating officer of ConocoPhillips, the chief executive of utility giant Exelon and the chief executive of Procter & Gamble’s largest division.

Other recent additions include Christiana Figueres, former executive secretary of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change and one of the architects of the Paris climate agreement; Jamie Dimon, chief executive of JPMorgan Chase; and Ernest Moniz, Obama's energy secretary and now a professor at MIT. Retired Gen. Jim Mattis, President Trump's former defense secretary, also endorsed the plan.

Coronavirus Has Caused Carbon Emissions to Plummet in China

The measures China has taken to curb the spread of the coronavirus have caused greenhouse gas emissions to plummet in the country, according to Carbon Brief.

Efforts to contain the outbreak, which has killed more than 2,200 people and infected nearly 80,000 others, have included travel restrictions and factory shutdowns, and there has been tepid consumer demand for products.

Carbon emissions have fallen by an estimated 25% since the outbreak began, nitrous oxide emissions have fallen by 36%, coal use is at a 4-year low, and flights are down 70% throughout the country.

Emissions generally drop in China during the Chinese New Year, when factories close so employees can visit family, but emissions have remained low in the weeks since the holiday, as the coronavirus became global news.

The decline shows how modern economies tend to only slow their output — and their accompanying environmental impact — amid significant disruptions that make it impossible to maintain the status quo. It also highlights how resistant countries have been to reducing their greenhouse gas emissions.

How does coronavirus connect to climate change?

<https://www.ncronline.org/news/earthbeat/how-does-coronavirus-connect-climate-change>

The COVID-19 pandemic is testing modern society, institutions and governments in unprecedented ways, and the lessons learned from this crisis will inform public policy and decision-making for decades to come.

Already, there are several easy comparisons between the lead-up to the pandemic and the current debate over climate change: scientists' warnings ignored, governments slow to act and skeptics shouting, "Hoax!" But rather than dunking on people who got it wrong, we should really be focused on the takeaways from the COVID-19 policy response so far and how to best apply them toward future climate action.

4. Businesses forced to digital transformation

How The COVID-19 Pandemic Is Fast-Tracking Digital Transformation In Companies

If "necessity is the mother of invention," coronavirus (COVID-19) forced many around the world to rethink our daily lives from work to school to entertainment. In response to travel bans, school closures, and recommendations to not gather in large groups and keep our distance from fellow humans to limit the spread of the virus, many people turned to digital tools to keep some semblance of normality. It's been imperative to digitally transform our places of work and education to be able to operate effectively. Those companies able to use technology well to keep going and rethink their business model for the future by fast-tracking digital transformation will be ones ahead of their competition.

WHAT'S THE COST OF NOT GOING DIGITAL FOR A BUSINESS?

For some companies, digital transformation may be seen as a costly and unnecessary commitment. And, there's no doubt that the process takes time, investment and patience.

However, ultimately, it's the businesses that adapt and adopt that are reaping the rewards in today's business landscape. In other words, going digital isn't really an option. It's a necessity.

Often businesses are quick to blame their lack of familiarity with technology or current IT systems as the barrier to moving forward with digital. But, what is costlier? Upgrading your current process and knowledge base, or potentially going out of business?

In this article, we explore the real costs of not moving into the digital world and look at companies that have fallen in the face of digital transformation.

1) Lose relevance

Digital speed is as much as 5 times faster than traditional businesses. Without a digital presence, it's easy to be lost in a sea of fast-moving strategy.

2) Competitive disadvantage

3) Inability to collect key analytics

4) Risk market share

5) Struggle to retain (and hire) valuable staff

6) Stifle company and revenue growth

7) Miss out on social selling opportunities

8) Fail to gain a learning advantage

9) See costs increase

Takeaway - By digitizing processes and campaigns your company can harness the power of technology to automate and optimize, meaning that over time running costs will go down rather than up.

Two-thirds of the CEOs in Global 2000 companies plan to have digital transformation at the center of their corporate strategy. And, according to IDC, 55% of businesses believe they have less than a year before they start to suffer financially and lose market share.

Companies that don't respond to market changes brought about by innovation, because of a fixed mindset or because they didn't read the market right, tend to miss out on opportunities. If the changes are big enough, companies risk losing customer interest, market share, and eventually revenue streams.

Close the Churches

State and local shutdown orders shouldn't exempt religious gatherings, and those communities should comply.

And yet, for the time being at least, mass gatherings are fueling a public-health crisis, and many state and local authorities are banning gatherings of 50 or more people. Can the government, in a country where freedom of religion and freedom of assembly are sacrosanct, close churches? As a matter of public health, churches should follow these prohibitions. But as a legal matter, must they? The short answer is that in this case, government restrictions extending to churches are almost certainly legal. What's interesting is why...

All shutdown orders include exemptions for hospitals and certain essential government services, some of which will necessarily require large groups of people to congregate. This introduces a strange irony to the analysis...

In response to the global spread of coronavirus (COVID-19), the government of Israel has indefinitely banned all international conferences and large religious gatherings. Additionally, Israel has banned travel from a number of countries in Asia and Europe and is currently requiring all international arrivals into the country to undergo a 14-day quarantine. The timing and disruptions of these decisions make it impossible to move ahead with Jerusalem2020.

None of this is a surprise to God. In fact, Jesus told us in Matthew 24 that in the last days, despite many upheavals, including outbreaks of disease, this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations. Our mission at Empowered21 is that every person on earth would have an encounter with Jesus through the power and presence of the Holy Spirit by Pentecost 2033. In the face of difficulty, the urgency of the Great Commission remains.

The new day that we are living in requires new ways of accomplishing our mission. While we will not be able to meet in Jerusalem this year we are moving forward with the EMPOWERED21 GLOBAL CONGRESS ONLINE. The Jerusalem2020 speakers as well as a number of other Empowered21 global leaders will join us for an online Congress hosted live from the campus of Oral Roberts University, May 31 – June 2, 2020. Additionally, we plan to release further online content over the next few months. Stay tuned to Empowered21.com or subscribe below for updates.

Is it right to use Nazi research if it can save lives?

Von Braun's presence on the Apollo programme was no outlier. More than 120 German scientists and engineers joined him there, including fellow SS officer Kurt Debus (who became director of Nasa's Launch Operations Center) and Bernhard Tessmann (designer of the colossal Vertical Assembly Building at what is now Kennedy Space Center).

They were among 1,600 scientists recruited by spies as part of Operation Paperclip at the end of World War Two – all shielded from prosecution, given safe passage to the US, and allowed to continue their work. Allied forces also snapped up other Nazi innovations. Nerve agents such as Tabun and Sarin (which would fuel the development of new insecticides as well as weapons of mass destruction), the antimalarial chloroquine, methadone and methamphetamines, as well as medical research into hypothermia, hypoxia, dehydration and more, were all generated on the back of human experiments in concentration camps.

When America believed in eugenics

<https://www.newstatesman.com/society/2010/12/disabled-america-immigration>

In the decades following the publication of Darwin's Origin of Species, a craze for eugenics spread not only through Britain but through America as well. Overbreeding by the poor and disabled threatened the quality of the human race, American campaigners warned. Drastic measures must be taken to avert a future catastrophe for humanity.

Amid popular fears about the decline of the national stock, one of the main drives behind the formation of American immigration policy at the end of the 19th century was the desire to exclude disabled people. The first major federal immigration law, the Act of 1882, prohibited entry to any 'lunatic, idiot, or any person unable to take care of himself or herself without becoming a public charge.'

As the eugenics movement gathered strength, the exclusion criteria were gradually tightened to make it easier for immigration officials to keep disabled people out of America. The 1907 law denied entry to anyone judged 'mentally or physically defective, such mental or physical defects being of a nature which may affect the ability of such alien to earn a living.' It added 'imbeciles' and 'feeble-minded persons' to the list of automatically excluded people and inspectors were directed to exclude people with 'any mental abnormality whatever'. Regulations in 1917 included a long list of disabilities that could be cause for exclusion including arthritis, asthma, deafness, deformities, heart disease, poor eyesight, poor physical development and spinal curvature.

Detecting physical disabilities was a major aspect of the American immigration inspector's work. The Commissioner General of Immigration reported in 1907: "The exclusion from this country of the morally, mentally and physically deficient is the principal object to be accomplished by the immigration laws." Inspection regulations stated that each individual 'should be seen first at rest and then in motion' in order to detect 'abnormalities of any description'. It was recommended that inspectors should watch immigrants as they carried their luggage upstairs to see if 'the exertion would reveal deformities and defective posture'. As one inspector wrote: "It is no more difficult to detect poorly built, defective or broken down human beings than to recognise a cheap or defective automobile." An abnormal appearance meant a chalked letter on the back - L for lameness, G for goitre, X for mental illness. Once chalked, a closer inspection was required, which meant that other problems were likely to be established.

Better Health Through Mass Surveillance?

Israeli authorities want to spy on people with the coronavirus.

A new government measure would allow the General Security Service, Israel's domestic intelligence agency also known as the Shin Bet, to track Israelis with the virus as well as individuals exposed to them.

Likening the struggle to contain the coronavirus to a fight against terrorism, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said health officials asked him to deploy "digital" techniques "used in the fight against terror" that had never been authorized for use among Israeli citizens.

"It's difficult to locate this enemy, because it's stealthy," he said in a press conference on Saturday night. "But there's no choice, because we're fighting a war that requires special actions."

MEDICAL MARTIAL LAW 2020

As the lockdowns go into place and the military takes to the streets in country after country, the decades of preparation for medical martial law are finally paying off for the pandemic planners. Today on this emergency edition of The Corbett Report podcast, James lays out the steps that have led us to the brink of martial law and the steps that are being taken to implement it now. Please help to spread this important information and to raise awareness of the crisis that we are facing.

EVIDENCE OVER HYSTERIA—COVID-19

These days are precarious as Governors float the idea of martial law for not following “social distancing”, as well as they liked while they violate those same rules on national TV. Remember this tone is for a virus that has impacted 0.004% of our population. Imagine if this was a truly existential threat to our Republic.

THE LOCKDOWN OF AMERICA BEGINS

On Thursday night, Governor Gavin Newsome took unprecedented action and locked down the entire state of California. The following day, Governor Andrew Cuomo locked down the state of New York and Gov. J.B. Pritzker locked down the state of Illinois.

Google will enlist 10,000 employees to moderate YouTube videos

The video platform will also have stricter criteria on which channels can earn from ads.

YouTube says its machine-learning algorithms help take down 70 percent of violent extremist content within eight hours of upload. By training those algorithms to do the same for other types of videos, such as those questionable uploads that targeted children, the platform will be able to take them down a lot faster than it currently can.

In addition to getting 10,000 Google employees' help, YouTube also plans to conjure up stricter criteria to consult when deciding which channels are eligible for advertising.

Anticipating the likely investigation into their handling of the coronavirus outbreak, current and former Trump Administration officials are starting to push back on widespread allegations that the Administration's cuts to critical global health staffing and funding may have hampered its response. Much of that attention has focused on the 2018 disbanding of a National Security Council unit focused on pandemic preparedness, which critics say left a leadership vacuum in global health security at the White House.

Corona is caused by strong electric fields at the surface of conductors. Throughout the project area, corona can occur on existing transmission lines during foul weather when the conductors are wet. Corona produces audible noise (see Chapter 9, Noise) and electromagnetic interference (static) that can affect AM radio or broadcast TV signals.

Electromagnetic fields and public health

Exposure to extremely low frequency fields

Backgrounder
June 2007

The use of electricity has become an integral part of everyday life. Whenever electricity flows, both electric and magnetic fields exist close to the lines that carry electricity, and close to appliances. Since the late 1970s, questions have been raised whether exposure to these extremely low frequency (ELF) electric and magnetic fields (EMF) produces adverse health consequences. Since then, much research has been done, successfully resolving important issues and narrowing the focus of future research.

The Belt and Road Initiative (BRI, or B&R^[1]) is a global development strategy adopted by the Chinese government in 2013 involving infrastructure development and investments in nearly 70 countries and international organizations in Asia, Europe, and Africa.^{[2][3]}

The leader of the People's Republic of China, Xi Jinping, originally announced the strategy during official visits to Indonesia and Kazakhstan in 2013. "Belt" refers to the overland routes for road and rail transportation, called "the Silk Road Economic Belt"; whereas "road" refers to the sea routes, or the 21st Century Maritime Silk Road.^[4]

U.S. warns Italy over China and 5G

ROME – U.S. Secretary of State Mike Pompeo warned Italy Wednesday of China's "predatory approach" to trade and investment, but Rome insisted its special powers over 5G supply deals would protect it. "China has a predatory approach in trade and investment" and represents a "mutual threat" to the two countries, Pompeo said during a joint news conference with Italian Foreign Minister Luigi Di Maio. "When the Chinese Communist party shows up to make an investment to gain political power or threaten a nation's security, that's what needs to be protected against," he said.

The Good Thing about Coronavirus Is...

Can we find a silver lining in the toxic cloud? The Slovenian pop-culture philosopher-pundit Slavoj Žižek offers a Rahm Emanuel-ism in an interview, hoping that this crisis will not be allowed to go to waste. Žižek thinks that Europe is about to get devastated by a "perfect storm," pressured by the virus on one side and the refugee crisis on the other. Out of this Žižek hopes to see a reemergence of . . . Communism.

The coronavirus outbreak sweeping across China, and now threatening dozens of other countries, including the United States, is not just a natural disaster. It is the deadly consequence of the Chinese Communist Party's malfesance and misrule. And, as has been the case for so much of the CCP's seven-decade hegemony, the cruel irony is that the people of China are its main victims.

It did not have to be this way. As The New York Times reported, the first case of coronavirus appeared in early December. But Chinese officials did not act for more than a month. When a Wuhan doctor, Li Wenliang, tried to warn his medical school classmates that an unfamiliar illness was ravaging Wuhan Central Hospital, he and his classmates were silenced by local authorities, who threatened to punish anyone "spreading rumors" and "disrupting social order."
